

DEATH OF ELSBURY POSITIVE

Dispatch From the White Star Line Says That Elsbury is Not a Survivor

ALL HOPE IS ABANDONED

Gurnee Man on Titanic Not Among Survivors—Family Now Compelled to Give Up Hope

The last hope of the James Elsbury family of Gurnee that their husband and father, a passenger on the ill fated Titanic might yet be returned to them, was completely swept away when on Wednesday a telegram from New York stated that he was not among the survivors.

When news of the disaster first spread, the Elsbury family clung to the hope that he might have been delayed in starting, but a cablegram from relatives across the water destroyed that hope and proved to a certainty that he was aboard the sunken vessel.

Day after day passed while the family waited in suspense for some word from the missing one, sometimes fearing the worst and sometimes inspired by hope. At times Mrs. Elsbury was sure that he must some way have been saved, but as time wore on and no message came she began to lose hope, feeling that if alive, he would ere this have communicated with her. And then came the report that a man had been picked up in an unconscious condition by the rescue ship, and had been placed in a New York hospital. That he had never regained his reason and that his only utterance were the words "Lake County, Illinois." Then hope sprang anew in the Gurnee home and telegrams bearing Elsbury's description, were at once sent and his picture was also forwarded. But a crushing blow was dealt the family when the answer came from the White Star Line that the man in question is not James Elsbury.

All hope of his being alive is now abandoned as is also that of ever receiving his body, and in all probability it will never be known whether the well known, highly respected Gurnee farmer, lies among the unidentified buried at sea or whether he was among the number whose bodies were never recovered.

MAY APPEAL TO GOVERNOR FOR PROTECTION

Referring to the appeal made by Englishmen in Zion to the British consul for protection from "religious fanatics" the Zion Independent says: "We find on examination that quite a few of the Englishmen belong to the fraternal order called the Sons of St. George, and as the British consul at Chicago is also a member of this order the members, through their president, thought it advisable to approach him and state their case in a quiet and informal way and see if they could not get protection and freedom from insult during their stay in Zion City.

We believe a letter has been forwarded to the consul signed by thirty Englishmen, not American citizens and we believe it is the purpose of the consul in Chicago to take up the matter with Governor Dungen and enlist his aid in providing protection from insult by religious fanatics.

NEW VERSION PRESENTED IN LORD-REED CASE

The famous Lord-Reed case, which has been before the courts of this county and state for the past ten years is to be re-opened and a different trial will be called at the next term of the Lake County court.

Mrs. Lord, in the latest instance claims that Miss Reed stole the affections of her husband and upon this she bases her claim.

An attorney who is interested in the case stated that the decision of the supreme court, which gave the farm at Lake Villa, which is the stumbling block in all the suits, to Miss Reed, would be appealed to and that an effort would be made to have it reversed.

NO LARSEN SENSATION

Waukegan Gazette's Imaginary story is Disproven By Facts

Tuesday's issue of the Waukegan Gazette comes out with a sensational article headed "Wadsworth Man Has Disappeared" and goes on to state in glowing terms that a well known farmer Louis Larson of Wadsworth had mysteriously disappeared after completing a business deal with Kelly & McCann and having received a large sum of money. It further stated that foul play was feared, that he might have been murdered for his money.

That Mrs. Larson had instituted a state wide search for her husband, asking police officials of every city in this section for aid.

But the News is in receipt of straight, reliable information from interested parties that the entire story lacks foundation in every point except one and that is, that he did complete a business deal with Kelly & McCann. Upon receiving the money he made a trip to Waukegan and placed it in a bank and returned to his home. He was not absent from home any great length of time, his wife was not alarmed as to his whereabouts and Wednesday morning he drove to Russell called at the store of Kelly & McCann and discussed his own "disappearance". Errors will creep into newspapers but it takes some imagination to coin a story of such startling qualities that hasn't even one good leg to stand on.

TO TEACH BOYS OF SIX

To be Put Through Business Course at the Sheldon School

The Sheldon School at Rockefeller is planning a novel and unique feature in connection with their educational system, in a business course for boys of six years of age.

Many new plans have been worked out in this school and many have proven to be very successful. This latest idea has attracted nation-wide attention and the advances of this school along the line of teaching boys six years of age business will be carefully watched.

With a school of this kind in Lake County it is likely that a number of Waukegan families will avail themselves of this opportunity to give their boys a business education before they are ten years of age.

A building is to be erected for this purpose, which will cost $70,000 and it will be located near the Sheldon school. The plan at present is to accommodate two hundred boys.

For the first two years, until the lads have reached the age of eight years they will be taught the same studies as in the first and second grades of school work. Then the studies will be changed and the school will branch out in their new idea.

It is not known at this time when the new system will be started, but it is expected that it will be about the first of next year.

SEVEN ACCIDENTALLY DROWNED WHEN LAUNCH CAPSIZES IN FOX LAKE

Party Were on Way to Bay View Hotel When Struck by Sudden Squall

WOMAN'S BODY IS RECOVERED

George Russell and Herman Hume of Ingleside, and Five Others From Chicago, are Drowned Wednesday Evening After Leaving Lippincott Hotel

A drowning accident of unusual proportions for one of the inland lakes took place Wednesday evening when a party of seven, five of whom were Chicagoans, lost their lives in the waters of Fox Lake.

The group had set sail in a gasoline launch conducted by Herman Hume of Ingleside, leaving the Lippincott hotel at about nine o'clock to be conveyed to the Bay View hotel for the purpose of attending an evening party. Shortly after the launch had set out people at Lippincott's heard cries of distress and rushing to the wharf plainly made out cries for help.

At once surmising that some mishap had occurred, a party set out to the rescue, but were unable to locate them in the darkness.

No one, of course can state the exact cause of the accident, but the general opinion is that the boat was overloaded and this coupled with the fact that a breeze was blowing and the waves were pretty high caused the craft to capsize. Hume is known to have been an expert in management of the boat and it is not thought that he was to blame for the accident.

Those in the party were, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hansen, Jack Hoefer, Lewis Truschke, and one other (name unknown) from Chicago and George Russell and Herman Hume of Ingleside.

Although searching parties have been dragging the lake for hours, up to the time we go to press only one of the seven bodies have as yet been found, that of Mrs. Hansen the only woman among the number, whose body was found floating.

Mr. Russell is well known at Ingleside where he has been engaged in the livery business for some time. He leaves two small children the eldest near ten and the youngest about two, his wife having passed away last September.

Mr. Hume a young man 19 years of age was the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Hume who conduct the restaurant at Ingleside. He was employed as agent for the Bissell Laundry Co., Chicago, and was in charge of their launch on Fox Lake, and taking advantage of the opportunity, he sought to give an evening's pleasure to a few friends but fate willed otherwise and the evenings pleasure ended in tragedy.

No trace of the launch has been found, although the search has been of the most diligent. A sein was produced at Pistakee Bay and will be put to the use in an endeavor to find the missing six bodies this (Thursday) afternoon.

JOHN MILLEN PASSED AWAY LAST MONDAY

John Millen an aged resident of Libertyville passed away Monday of this week, at the home of his daughter Mrs. Wm. McGavick with whom he has resided for the past seven years. His death being due to a complication of diseases.

He was born in Ireland in 1837 and was 75 years of age at the time of his death.

Mr. Millen was well known in the vicinity of Antioch, Russell and Bristol. He at one time made his home in our vicinity.

He is survived by nine children, Mrs. H. Carney, of Libertyville; Mrs. P. H. Hoyer of Antioch; Mrs. Dan Fisher of Colorado; Mrs. Wm. McGavick of Libertyville; Mrs. Ira Webb of Montana; Rollin and Frank of Libertyville; John Evanston; and Fred of Chicago.

The funeral was held Wednesday with burial at Mill Creek.

ROGAN MEETS WITH SERIOUS ACCIDENT

Frank Rogan, well known Pleasant Prairie farmer, met with serious injuries Monday when his team collided with one of the cars of the Kenosha Electric Railway company at the switch on Elizabeth street, Kenosha. Rogan was thrown out of his wagon and struck on the curb at the side of the street. He was taken to the Kenosha hospital, suffering from a broken rib and several bruises, but later he was removed to his home and it is probable that he will be laid up for some time. People who witnessed the accident were unanimous in declaring that Rogan was entirely to blame for the accident. There was plenty of room for him to pass the car but he seemed to be paying little attention to his team at the time.

LAKE COUNTY TEACHERS WILL MEET AT GRAYSLAKE

A meeting of the County Teachers' Association will be held in Grayslake, Saturday, May 11, beginning at ten o'clock. The morning session will be given to class demonstrations by the teachers of the school, Prin. McClelland, Miss Edith Darby, Miss Lillie Darby and Miss Norris. Following the lunch hour there will be a short program consisting of folk dances and drills by the pupils of the North School, North Chicago, and music by a young ladies' quartette of the Half Day School.

Leading in the discussions on the Life of Lincoln will be Prin. R. C. Kent who will talk on Lincoln and Slavery; Prin. F. E. Deyoe, Lincoln and His Generals, Prin. F. A. Hudson, Lincoln as a Statesman, Prin. Fairfax Townley, Lincoln and His Cabinet.

Luncheon will be served by the ladies of the Congregational church. Miss Lillie Watson, Sec. W. O. Cox, Chairman.

GOVERNMENT MAY COIN OTHER DENOMINATIONS

The treasury department has withdrawn its opposition to the coinage of additional denominations of money and is not opposing the bill introduced by Representative Bulkley of Ohio, providing for 8 cents and 1 cent pieces.

The old 3 cent pieces were retired because they resembled the dimes too closely and until recently the treasury consistently opposed an increase in the denominations of coins.

If the bill is enacted the three cent piece will be made about the size of a nickel, with either a hole in the center or a scalloped edge. The design of the 1 cent piece will be considerably smaller than the dime and will have a scalloped edge.

M. E. CONFERENCE ISSUES

Conference Committee is Working to Aid all Laboring Classes.

Asking that its churches throughout the world come out squarely in favor of improving working conditions for the wage earners, a special committee had prepared for presentation to the quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, which opened May 1, a working program to "disprove the charge that the church is not in sympathy with the poor."

The report of the committee, which has been at work for four years, states that labor and social conditions have become such that the church must take a prominent part in them. After asserting that "this church has its beginning among the poor, and the bulk of its members have always been wage earners," the report recommended for adoption by the conference, which represents more than 3,000,000 members, a propaganda calling for:

"Abolition of child labor."
"Reduction of working hours to the lowest practicable point."
"Safeguarding the conditions of toil for women."
"Equitable division of the profits of industry."
"Protection of workers from the risks of enforced unemployment."
"Provision for old and injured workers."

It is expected the demand that the church go on record on these subjects will provoke lively discussion when they come before the full conference.

The rule prohibits dancing, games of chance, theater going, circuses and horse racing as being "a tendency toward worldliness." The proposition as to its retention or rejection has been referred to a committee for consideration.

TO TEST SMOKE LAW

Zion Case Will be Brought Before Judge Whitney May 20th

The smoking ordinance of Zion City is to be tested in the courts of this county and on May 20 Judge Whitney will give the case a hearing.

The independents are claiming that there is nothing in the leases that touches upon a man smoking upon his own ground or in his own home and they will carry their contention to the court.

Attorneys are now busy preparing briefs for the case and it promises to be a most interesting case. The whole of the holy war in Zion City has been waged with the understanding that the Cook employees were forbidden to smoke on their own property and when this is taken to the courts and if the court upholds the plea of the Independents Cook company can go ahead and smoke in their plant all they please.

One of the leases that was issued under the reign of John Alexander Dowie, and there is nothing in this that prohibits a man from using tobacco on his own grounds if he sees fit.

The case and its outcome will be awaited with great interest. It was to have come up Monday but the attorneys were unable to secure enough evidence.

RESIDENTS ASK AUDIT

Barrington Has too Much not too Little Money in Treasury.

Citizens of Barrington some of the wets and some of the dries have made a request for the audit of the town books claiming that there must be something wrong somewhere. Barrington people are asking each other where all the money is coming from and not where it is going to.

It is a very peculiar thing to ask for an audit of this kind and there is a small chance that never before have the citizens made such a request.

It will be remembered that Barrington is, and has been for some little time a dry town. At the recent election, when the town was again voted dry, this time by a two to one vote, it was disclosed that the people were receiving less money on taxes and the like than when they had saloons. They have also made the discovery that more money is being spent for current expenses and for improvements than ever before and that there is a balance in the city strong box.

With this taken into consideration, they are asking for an audit and some of them are inclined to believe that some one, who has a great interest in seeing the town remain dry, is putting down a sum of money each year for this purpose. They are planning a speedy investigation.

PATIENTS LEAVE THE ASYLUM

Three Inmates of Racine Asylum Escape After Stealing Citizens Clothes

ONE IS CAUGHT AT SALEM

Captive Wore Handcuffs Constantly as a Mark of Identification as He Would Run Away at Every Opportunity

Obtaining access to the clothes room, three inmates of the Racine county insane asylum changed their regulation garb for ordinary clothes Sunday evening and escaped from the institution after eluding the vigilance of the guards stationed on the grounds.

One of the men was captured in the town of Salem Tuesday while the other two are still at large.

The three men who made their escape were John Smith who was captured; Mike Ryder and Charles Nelson who are still at large.

Superintendent Henry Lewis of the insane asylum states that residents of Racine county need feel no apprehension regarding their safety because both the men at large are harmless.

Smith was captured in the neighborhood of the Brass Ball Corners in the town of Salem, a handcuff which he had on his wrist betraying him. Smith has been a particularly troublesome patient at the asylum and for some time he had worn a handcuff. He generally manages to escape every year and then wanders about the surrounding country posing as a horse trader.

When the Salem farmers saw the handcuff on Smith, they immediately notified Sheriff Stahl and after a long chase with an automobile, the man was finally captured.

When taken to the lockup in Kenosha he declared that he had gotten away from the Racine asylum, but craftily failed to tell that two other men had escaped with him. Consequently the Kenosha officials were not put on the trail of the other two men until the Racine officers appeared to take Smith back.

One of the men still at large was employed in the blacksmith shop and he had keys for the opening of the room used for storing the clothing of inmates. Managing to escape the detection of the guards he slipped into this room on Sunday night and secured citizens clothes for the three men. Wearing citizens' clothes it was a comparatively easy thing for the men to evade the vigilance of the guards and escape from the grounds.

MILK INSPECTORS ARE BUSY IN LAKE COUNTY

The health inspectors of the state are making the rounds, looking for dairymen who are operating unsanitary farms and already they have reached over a hundred and fifty in the outlying districts of Chicago where the milk is shipped to that city.

A man has been working in this county, is the understanding, and it has been stated that he has a number of men who have been selling milk in this county lined up and that he will deprive them of their right to sell milk, if they do not mend their ways at once.

The men upon whom a ban has been placed reside south and west of Chicago and the inspectors are working their way around to this section of the country.

The North Shore Dairy Co. have not received any notification as yet and neither has the Bowman Bottling Works of Gurnee. Both firms are sending large quantities of milk to Chicago and especially the Gurnee company.

It has been stated that the North Shore is noted for its sanitary condition, but some developments are expected that will make this untrue.

KILL 10, HURT 25

TEXAS CONFEDERATE VETERANS' TRAIN WRECKED NEAR HATTIESBURG, MISS.

ENROUTE TO ANNUAL REUNION

Engine, Baggage Car, Day Coach and Three Sleepers Leave Track and Roll Down Embankment—Cause Is Unknown.

Hattiesburg, Miss., May 8.—Four trainmen and six or more passengers were killed, and at least twenty-five passengers injured Monday, when the first section of the Texas Confederate reunion special, en route to Macon, Ga., was wrecked near Gunns Mill, on the New Orleans & Northeastern railroad, six miles north of Hattiesburg.

Five bodies were brought to Hattiesburg on the cars of the big special which remained on the track, and five or six other bodies were reported under the wreckage. The dead and injured:

Mrs. Charles Holmes, Bay Springs, Tex.
Mrs. James Cameron, Henderson, Tex.

Two unidentified girls, aged three and five; parents thought to be under wreckage.

Engineer "Billy" Wood, Hattiesburg.

Fireman C. C. Jones (colored), Meridian, Miss.

James S. Downing, Atlanta, Ga.

Dr. Boone, Mr. Denham and one other man from Mansfield, La., are missing and thought to be under the wreckage.

Five bodies are positively known to be under the wreckage.

The engine, baggage car, the day coach and three tourist sleepers left the track and rolled over down an embankment. The six remaining coaches of the veterans' special were hurriedly transformed into a morgue and hospital, and as soon as an engine reached the scene the dead and injured were brought here. The injured, some of whom are believed to be fatally hurt, filled the two hospitals of Hattiesburg, while the dead were taken to an undertaking establishment.

Five doctors and three nurses reached the scene of the terrible accident within half an hour after the first news reached here. "Living comrades of the dead and injured veterans, however, had not forgotten the lessons they learned on the field of battle, and their attention to the dead and the ministrations to the wounded were prompt.

With the assistance of the members of the train crew whose lives were spared, the passengers soon had all of the injured removed to the cars that stood on the tracks and had gathered together the remains of as many of the dead as it was possible to reach before the wrecking derrick could reach the scene to lift the debris from those plonked beneath it.

The train was from New Orleans, and was occupied entirely by the veterans and wives and families. The cause of the wreck has not been ascertained positively. The train was running at about thirty miles an hour and was crossing an embankment with a trestle in the center. Just as the engine reached the trestle it was seen to rear up and leave the track. The five cars followed the engine, some tumbling down the embankment on one side and some on the other, forming a tangled mass of splinters and twisted iron. Two of the cars dashed against poles of the Cumberland telephone, thirty feet from the track, demolishing the poles and severing communication with Hattiesburg.

Traffic on the road is completely tied up and from appearances will remain so for some time to come.

STEAMER MINIA IN PORT

Vessel Carrying More Titanic Victims Arrives at Halifax—Charles M. Hays' Body Aboard.

Halifax, N. S., May 8.—With her flags at half mast as indicative of her mournful mission, the cable ship Minia, which succeeded the Mackay-Bennett in the search for bodies of the Titanic disaster victims off the Newfoundland grand banks, arrived in port Monday with 15 corpses on board. Seventeen bodies in all had been picked up by the Minia, but of these two were buried at sea. Among the bodies on board the ship was that of Charles M. Hays, late president of the Grand Trunk railway, who lost his life in the disaster. A special car was brought here for the body of Mr. Hays.

MINERS ARE DIVIDED

WORKERS HOLD NUMEROUS MEETINGS.

Supporters of President White Favor Peace While Foreign Element Want a Strike.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 6.—At the numerous meetings held throughout the anthracite region by the miners, at which the situation was thoroughly discussed and instructions given to delegates to the convention to be held here May 14, when the concessions offered by the operators will be acted upon, the sentiment among the workers as to whether the concessions should be rejected or accepted was about equally divided.

Many of the older men, and particularly those who are strong supporters of National President White, are heartily in favor of peace and expressed their intention of demanding that the report of the committee be adopted. Others, many of the foreign-born mine workers being among them, who are strongly in favor of rejecting the report of the subcommittee and demanding that there shall be a strike if the operators refuse to grant recognition of the union, which embodies the collecting of the union dues from the mine workers by the coal companies by the check-off system.

AMUSEMENT BAN IS LIFTED

Resolution Condemning Secretary Wilson for Connection With Brewers' Congress Adopted.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 6.—The board of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church reported to the general conference of the church Friday in favor of lifting the church ban from dancing, card playing, gambling and attendance at horse racing, theaters and circuses.

In making this radical recommendation the 24 active bishops who formulated the report declared that the American people are too far advanced longer to be restricted by church rules as to what their amusements shall be. It is suggested that each individual follow the dictates of his own conscience.

A representative from Missouri introduced a resolution condemning Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson and virtually threatening to vote against the Taft administration. This was adopted by a vote of 544 to 241 after a sharp fight on the floor of the convention. An effort was made to have it referred to a special committee and there was sharp debate before it passed. The resolution was the outgrowth of the Brewers' congress, of which Wilson was made honorary chairman.

The resolutions were signed by Rev. J. W. Anderson, Rev. W. P. Burris and Rev. W. E. Christy, all of Missouri.

AERIAL BOMBS DESTROY CAMP

Turks Lose Heavily When Explosives Are Dropped From Two Italian Dirigibles at Azizliah.

Rome, May 4.—A brief dispatch received at the war ministry Thursday tells of the destruction of the Turkish camp "with heavy loss" at Azizliah by two dirigible balloons which sailed over the place and dropped explosives into the encampment. This is the first serious destruction done by dirigibles in actual warfare. The report says that thirty bombs were dropped, practically annihilating the Turkish camp. The Turks tried to use their field pieces to destroy the dirigibles with shrapnel but they could not fire at a sufficient elevation and the explosives fell far short.

BIG SUFFRAGE MOVE

WOMEN TO THE NUMBER OF 20,000 MARCH THROUGH GOTHAM STREETS.

PARADE IS MAMMOTH AFFAIR

Feminine Cavalry, Trousered, Booted and Spurred, Negroes and Chinese Amazons Are Some of the Unique Features of Procession.

New York, May 6.—In the biggest suffrage parade ever held in America, 20,000 women marched from Washington square to Carnegie hall Saturday afternoon. Nearly every one of them wore a 28-cent hat adopted for the occasion.

The most unusual feature of the procession were Miss Annie Tinker's squad of cavalry women in breeches, boots and spurs; Mrs. Albert Plimpton's band of negroes and Miss Myrtle Jin's squad of Chinese women.

Miss Tinker and her cavalcade of equestriennes were mounted upon beautifully caparisoned horses, thoughtfully provided with blinders. This cavalry squad was comprised of the flower of New York suffrage, and in its ranks were Miss Inez Mulholland, Miss Mabel Lee, the Chinese suffragist; Mrs. Palding Farnum, the sculptress; Mrs. William Bracher and Mrs. Richard S. Chisholm. There was the only headress not of the 28-cent denomination; it was a three-cornered black straw with a tri-colored cockade in purple, green and white, and cost almost 50 cents. The ladies began to gather at Washington square at three o'clock, and some three hours later Mrs. Blatch gave the order to march.

TEN DEAD IN TEXAS STORM

Score Are Injured, Much Property Damage Done in Cyclone and Cloudburst.

San Antonio, Tex., May 3.—Ten persons are known to have been killed, a score injured and farm buildings over a wide area destroyed by a cyclone and a cloudburst which swept over the Rio Grande river country near North Laredo Wednesday. Telegraph and telephone wires were leveled between Laredo and Green.

Among the known killed is Grover Nye, a wealthy planter of North Laredo. Three women and children, names unknown, were killed in the house adjoining Nye's property. The extensive ranch property of J. J. Davis, the millionaire onion king of Texas, was completely swept away, and several of his employees were killed or injured.

SHRINERS IN CONVENTION

Thousands of Nobles From Over Country Gather at Los Angeles For Yearly Meet.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 6.—Something like 5,000 visitors have come for the yearly convention of the Mystic Shrine, which opened here Saturday. It is the largest meeting the organization ever has held and the accommodations of the city are taxed to the utmost. The convention is scheduled to adjourn on May 11, and the intervening time will be taken up with automobile trips and entertainments.

OUTLAW IS SCORED

PROSECUTOR ARRAIGNS ALLEN AS COLD-BLOODED MURDERER.

Lawyer for Slayer Declares Client Did Not Shoot Until After He Had Been Wounded.

Wytheville, Va., May 4.—Floyd Allen, typical native of Virginia's isolated hills, probably for the first time in his life, has arrived at a realization of the determination of the law when it deals with the man who has taken human life.

Six weeks ago, when he was found guilty of a minor offense, Allen and his kin took the law into their own hands and worked their guns until four of their prosecutors and an innocent spectator were dead.

At the opening of his trial Thursday for the murder of Commonwealth Attorney William M. Foster, Allen, propped up in an easy chair to alleviate the pain of his own wounds, heard a new prosecutor thunderously denounce him as the arch-conspirator in one of the most atrocious crimes in the history of the world.

J. C. Wysof, chief counsel for the state, in his opening address characterized the Allen gang as ruffians, outlaws and cold-blooded assassins. He laid great stress on the charge of conspiracy.

The opening address of Attorney R. H. Willis for the defense was brief. He declared his client had been the victim of gross exaggerations. He denied that Allen killed Miss Nancy Ayers; it was the bullets of either Clerk Dexter Goad or one of his deputies which killed her, he said. He denied the existence of a conspiracy and declared Allen did not draw his own gun until after he had been shot and then he drew it from his hip pocket, not from his vest pocket, beneath the sweater.

Judge D. W. Bolen of Hillsville, who had been Floyd Allen's counsel, took the witness chair and detailed the shooting at the courthouse. He declared that Claude Allen fired the first shot.

S. B. Weddell, a former resident of Hillsville, said he saw Floyd Allen there the day before the tragedy. Allen told him that day, the witness declared: "I will kill Bill Foster before the sun goes down tomorrow night if I am convicted."

Weddell said he had always been a close friend of the prisoner.

REBELS FORM A GOVERNMENT

Mexican Insurrectos Name Gomez as Provisional President—Establishes Capital in Juarez.

El Paso, Tex., May 7.—Emilio Vasquez Gomez was declared Saturday provisional president of Mexico and established his provisional capital in the customs house in Juarez, where Francisco Madero established his provisional capital May 10 last year. He appointed Col. Pascual Orozco, father of the generalissimo of the rebels, minister of war, and Lic. Moreno Cantón of Yucatan minister of foreign relations. The rest of the cabinet will be named later.

HIGH COST CHECKED

EUROPEAN COUNTRIES SUCCEED IN REDUCING EXPENSE OF LIVING.

CO-OPERATIVE UNIONS CAUSE

President Taft Sends Second Installment of Consular Reports Regarding Excessive Rates in Europe to Congress—Prices at Fair Level.

Washington, May 7.—The president on Monday transmitted to congress the second installment of the reports of consular officers on co-operation and the cost of living which are the result of the investigation he some time ago directed should be made. The countries included in this installment are France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Denmark.

It appears from the information collected, the acting secretary says, that the rising cost of living has directed attention to and augmented the membership of the co-operative societies, more especially in France and Belgium. The French co-operative associations are in the main arranged upon the same system as those in the United Kingdom. The tendency is towards small societies and the great majority of the associations represent groceries and bakeries. The most successful distributive societies are in the manufacturing cities of northeastern and central France. Among these societies relief funds are administered and insurance against illness and forced non-employment is supplied. Arrangements are made with dentists, doctors and artisans for their services by members on a commission basis.

The operation of the agricultural societies has been especially successful in southern France. The French government has given encouragement to these societies by furnishing expert advice, granting subsidies and permitting long term loans by agricultural credit associations. The general buying is done principally through district unions. High-grade farm machinery such as is beyond the reach of many individual members is purchased from the surpluses or is loaned gratuitously or upon the payment of nominal fees.

In regard to industrial co-operative production it appears that plants owned and operated by the operatives are not uncommon in France.

The consular reports state that the French co-operative societies usually sell at prices which are neither higher nor lower than those of private stores and that they have a tendency to keep prices throughout the district where they are located down to a fair level as well as to enhance the purity and quality of the goods. The degree of reduction in the cost of living is almost wholly contingent upon the capability and the altruism of the management of the respective districts.

In Belgium, the consular reports state, a large proportion of the co-operative societies sell at prices lower than those of the regular market, allowing only nominal profits to distribute. Many societies guarantee a six per cent dividend on all purchases and distribute all remaining profits to various funds for insurance, pensions, strike relief, indemnities for injuries, and the like.

BACKACHE NOT A DISEASE

But a Symptom, a Danger Signal Which Every Woman Should Heed.

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or derangement. If you have backache don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Read about Mrs. Woodall's experience.

Morton's Gap, Kentucky.—"I suffered two years with female disorders, my health was very bad and I had a continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal's victuals without my back nearly killing me, and I would have such dragging sensations I could hardly bear it. I had soreness in each side, could not stand tight clothing, and was irregular. I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am enjoying good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since. I do all my own work, washing and everything, and never have backache any more. I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimony will help others you may publish it."—Mrs. OLLIE WOODALL, Morton's Gap, Kentucky.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Some people waste a lot of time trying to save it.

Dyspepsia, despair, not! While there's Garfield Tea, there's hope.

Assuming That.

Brown—What reason have you for hating Blank? Smith—Well, you see, he's a relative of mine, and—

Brown—Yes, yes, I know, but what other reason?—Harper's Bazar.

An Exception to the Rule.

"Jinks is a man who has his hammer out on all occasions."

"I bet there is one occasion where he hasn't."

"What's that?"

"When it's time to put down the carpet."

What Every Woman Knows.

A Cleveland school teacher writes that she asked her class what was the difference between the expression, "a while" and "a time." Nobody seemed to have any ideas on the subject. Finally the light of intelligence was seen to shine in the eyes of one little boy, and the preacher called upon him to save the intellectual honor of the class.

"I know, teacher!" he cried eagerly. "When papa says he's going out for a while, mamma says she knows he's going out for a time!"

That's one way of looking at it—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Knew Something About It.

The small boy of the household was not notably proficient in sacred lore, but when his sister asked him, "Where was Solomon's temple?" he indignantly resented the supposed impeachment of his stock of information, and retorted:

"Don't you think I know anything?" She assured him that she did not doubt that he knew, but urged him to state for her benefit.

Though not crediting her sincerity, he finally exclaimed, curtly:

"On the side of his head, of course, where other folk's are! D'you s'pose I'm a fool?"

The Cross Country $1650 The Most Comfortable Car In America Selling Below $2500

It's a 38 h. p. five passenger touring car with 120 in. wheel base, 36x4 inch tires and demountable wheels—a rare combination of power, comfort and appearance.

It's long—it's low—it's roomy. Low with drop frame and new spring suspension. Long with front axle set forward and straight line torpedo body. Roomy with tonneau seat four feet wide—31 inches of leg room—enough for the tallest man—27 inches from front seat to dash and wide elbow room at the wheel. The most comfortable car in America selling below $2500.

Ride 200 Miles Without Fatigue

Step into this car and you are dominated by a feeling of spacious ease and gratifying comfort. In a ten minute ride you grin in spite of yourself through rare delight. You may tour all day with pleasure and return without fatigue.

The upholstery is of such pleasing softness that even the invalid may ride without discomfort—cushions 4 inches deep, made from finest selected long hair. Rear cushion has 45 double acting steel spring coils.

Front springs 39 inches long—rear 52 inches long—size of I-beam-type set forward under radiator—road clearance 10 inches—front edge of tonneau seat 9 inches ahead of rear axle—front seat 45 inches wide—120 inch wheel base and 36 inch wheels.

Now, do you wonder that it's the easiest riding—easiest to drive and easiest to turn around—no other make at $2,500 can touch it.

You must experience the feel of that Cross Country wheel. It's a delight. Think of the unconscious ease with which you guide a bicycle. It's just that. Your arms don't tire. Your legs don't cramp. Both levers are inside and the sound of the motor—just the sweetest hum that turns instantly into a snappy roar when the cut-out is open.

Silent, long and lean, with swift moving lines, the Cross Country has grace, suggestion of speed and beauty of contour.

It has climbed the most famous hills in America, running like a greyhound. To drive this car is exhilarating. It runs like a spirited horse. You touch the throttle and it's away.

Looks Like $2500

A big car of exceeding beauty; few people have guessed its price on sight at below $2500. Finished in English Purple Lake—a rare shade of deep maroon—trimmed in nickel, with bonnet, fenders and fillers in black enamel, with 2 1/4 inch lamps in black enamel and nickel. You'll find the same equipment on cars selling at $2500.

Fenders of sweeping grace, radiator of new and distinctive design—doors 20 inches wide—and open fully with no outside latches.

Rakish, low and balanced perfectly, you can put it around a corner in a jiffy and the rear end will hug the road.

The Rambler was first to offer a real bicycle for less than $100. The Rambler is now first to offer a real car below $2000. Write for the name of the nearest dealer—ask for the Rambler catalog.

Ten Other Styles, Including Open and Closed Cars of 38 and 50 Horse Power

EQUIPMENT—Bosch duplex ignition. Fine large, black and nickel headlights with gas tank. Black and nickel side and tail oil lamps; large tool box; tool roll with complete tool outfit. Roomy, folding robe rail; foot rest, jack, pump and tire kit. Top, with envelope, $40—wind shield, $15. Demountable Wheel, less tire, with brackets and tools, $30. Gas operated self starter $50.

RECOGNITION OF THE OCCULT

Even Its Enemies Are Willing to Grant That the Belief Has a Foundation in Fact.

The mysterious, the secret, and the unknown have ever exercised a powerful attraction over the human mind, and the present craze for what we may designate comprehensively as occult research is no new thing. But it cannot be denied that, apart from the merely superficial side, which naturally fascinates the empty-headed, the frivolous, or the ignorant, there are aspects of occultism which make a very deep appeal to the more intellectual and spiritual among us. Whether this be a good sign or not, it is not our intention to inquire; but it is curious to note the grounds upon which its bitterest opponents base their objections to occultism in general. We need not trouble about the superior or matter-of-fact persons who, without the slightest inquiry, smile at such "superstitions," for no man has a right to sneer at another's beliefs, unless he can prove that other to be wrong. But the real enemies of occult science are those who, fully admitting the objective reality of occult experiences, hold that they are necessarily evil and harmful to themselves. On this point, again, we should not care to express an opinion, but it is clearly a remarkable fact that fancies which have for so many generations been looked upon as mere superstitions and old wives' tales should now be acknowledged by so many intelligent and thinking individuals as at least resting upon some foundation of fact. Who could have predicted such a tremendous reversal of opinion concerning these matters fifty years ago?—London Globe.

Legend About the Wind.

We have plenty of wind in London just now, especially at that corner by Blackfriars Station. But the men of Lincoln assert that the breeziest spot in England is outside their cathedral. According to a local legend, the devil some hundreds of years ago met the wind outside the cathedral and told him to wait there while he went in to see the dean and chapter. The wind is still waiting, for the devil has not yet been able to tear himself away from the congenial society he found on paying his visit. Consequently all the year round a strong breeze blows in front of Lincoln cathedral.—London Chronicle.

KEEP OLD CUSTOM AT ETON

Distribution of Small Coins to the Scholars Was First Begun 400 Years Ago.

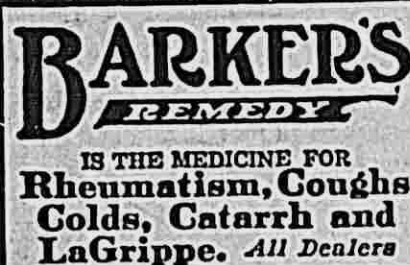

Eton has celebrated "threepenny day," when a new threepenny piece is presented to each of the pupils. The custom was founded nearly 400 years ago by Roger Lupton, who was provost of the college from 1502 to 1535. Lupton arranged with the fellows for an annual distribution of money on the anniversary of his death. The provost received 2s 8d, the fellows, headmaster and Lupton's chaplain, 1s 4d, the other chaplains and usher, 8d, and the scholars and choristers, 1d each.

The scholars still get this penny in the threepenny pieces distributed to them on February 27, the other twopence being from the gift of Provost Bost. Lupton's predecessor as provost. There was a tradition at Eton which has been disproved, but which subsists to the present day, that half a sheep is what the collegier is really entitled to, and that the college evade their obligation by giving the value of half a sheep in the Middle Ages. Some time in the middle of the last century a boy named Charles Henry Bramwell, on being tendered his threepenny by Bethell, one of the fellows, said: "No, thank you, sir; I want my half sheep."

"Bethell flew into an awful rage," says the late Montagu Williams, who tells the story, "and exclaimed: 'I'll mention this matter to Dr. Hawtrey and have you flogged,' and flogged the unfortunate youth was."

A recent supreme court decision plainly outlines the responsibilities of owners of vicious dogs. The decision was in a case where action had been brought to recover damages from the owner of a dog that barked and frightened the plaintiff's horse. The plaintiff was thrown and injured and brought suit for $1,500 damages. The jury gave him a verdict for that amount and the owner of the dog appealed to the supreme court. The supreme court confirmed the verdict and says in strong words that the owners of vicious and barking dogs are responsible for all damages caused by such dogs and the owners keep them at their own peril.

In no blaze of glory did Burning Daylight descend upon San Francisco. Not only had he been forgotten, but the Klondike along with him. The world was interested in other things, and the Alaskan adventure, like the Spanish War, was an old story. He settled down in St. Francis Hotel, was interviewed by the cub-reporters on the hotel-run, and received brief paragraphs of notice for twenty-four hours.

Tiring of being merely an onlooker, he ran up to Nevada, where the new gold-mining boom was fairly started—"just to try a flutter," as he phrased it to himself. The flutter on the Tonopah Stock Exchange lasted just ten days, during which time his smashing, wild-bull game played ducks and drakes with the more stereotyped gamblers, and at the end of which time, having gambled Florida into his fist, he let go for a net profit of half a million. Whereupon, smacking his lips, he departed for San Francisco and the St. Francis Hotel. It tasted good, and his hunger for the game became more acute.

So it was that he resolved to leave the little men, the Holdsworths, alone; and, while he met them in good fellowship, he chummed with none and formed no deep friendships. He did not dislike the little men, the men of the Alta-Pacific, for instance. He merely did not elect to choose them for partners in the big game in which he intended to play. What this big game was, even he did not know. He was waiting to find it. And in the meantime he played small hands, investing in several arid-lands reclamation projects and keeping his eyes open for the big chance when it should come along.

It was not long afterward that Daylight came on to New York. A letter from John Dowsett had been the cause—a simple little typewritten letter of several lines. But Daylight

They met—thanks to "our" Mr. Howlson—up the Hudson, in a magnificent country home. Daylight, according to instructions, arrived in a private motor car which had been furnished him. Dowsett was already there, and another man whom Daylight recognized before the introduction was begun. It was Nathaniel Letton, and none other. Daylight had seen his face a score of times in the magazines and newspapers, and read about his standing in the financial world, and about his endowed University of Daranton. Ho, likewise, struck Daylight as a man of power, though he was puzzled in that he could find no likeness to Dowsett. Except in the matter of cleanness—a cleanness that seemed to go down to the deepest fibers of him—Nathaniel Letton was unlike the other in every particular. Thin to emaciation, he seemed a cold flame of a man. Not more than fifty, thatched with a sparse growth of iron-gray hair, he looked several times the age of Dowsett.

"Of course, you understand, Mr. Harnish, the absolute need for keeping our alliance in the dark," Nathaniel Letton warned, gravely.

"Yes, that's the very thing." Dowsett said. "The commercial need for copper is continually increasing. Ward Valley Copper, and all that it stands for—practically one-quarter of the world's supply, as I have shown you—is a big thing, how big, even we can scarcely estimate. Our arrangements are made. We have plenty of capital ourselves, and yet we want more. But, there is too much Ward Valley out to suit our present plans. There will kill both birds with one stone. Not only will you buy Ward Valley, but you will at the same time be getting Ward Valley in. This will be of inestimable advantage to us, while you and all of us will profit by it as well. And as Mr. Letton has pointed out, the thing is legitimate and square. On the eighteenth the directors met and, instead of the customary dividend, a double dividend will be declared."

"There will be all sorts of rumors on the street," Dowsett warned Daylight, "but do not let them frighten you. These rumors may even originate with us. You can see how and why clearly. But rumors are to be

They were prepared for him to play, and, when heavy buying of Ward Valley began, it was quickly decided that he was the operator. Financial gossip buzzed and hummed. He was after the Guggenhammers once more. The story of Ophir was told over again and sensationalized until even Daylight scarcely recognized it. Still, it was all grist to his mill. The stock gamblers were clearly befuddled. Each day he increased his buying, and danger were the sellers that Ward Valley rose but slowly. A wildly exciting time was his during the week preceding Thursday the eighteenth. Not only was he gambling as he had done before, but he was never gambled before, but he was gambling at the biggest table in the world for stakes so large that even the case-hardened habitués of that table were compelled to sit up. In spite of the unlimited selling, his persistent buying compelled Ward Valley steadily to rise, and as Thursday approached, the situation became acute. Something had to smash. How much was he going to buy? How much could he buy? What was the Ward Valley crowd doing all this time? Daylight appreciated interviews with the crowd that appeared—interviews delightful and placid and non-committal. Leon Gengenhammer even hazarded the opinion that this Northland Croesus might possibly be making a mistake. But that they cared, John Dowsett plained. "It is purely gambling from beginning to end," were Nathaniel's words; "and we refuse to have anything to do with it or to take notice of it in any way."

During this time Daylight had several secret meetings with his partners—one with Leon Guggenhammer, one with John Dowsett, and two with Mr. Howlston. Beyond congratulations, they really amounted to nothing; for, as he was informed, everything was going satisfactorily. But on Tuesday morning a rumor, that was disconcerting came to Daylight's ears. It was also published in the Wall Street Journal, and it was to the effect, on apparently straight inside information, that on Thursday, when the directors of Ward Valley met, instead of the customary dividend being declared, an assessment would be levied. It was the first check Daylight had received. It came to him with a shock that if the thing were so he was a broken man. And it also came to him that all this colossal operating of his was being done on his own money. Dowsett, Guggenhammer and Letton were risking nothing. It was a panic, shortlived. It was true, but sharp enough while it lasted to make him remember Holden worthy and the brick-yard, and to impel him to cancel all buying orders and rush to a telephone.

"Nothing in it—only a rumor," came Leon Guggenhammer's throaty voice in the receiver. "As you know, said Nathaniel Leston, 'I am one of the directors, and I should certainly be aware of it were such action contemplated.'" And John Dowsett: "I warned you against just such rumors. There is not an iota of truth in it—certainly not. I tell you on my honor as a gentleman."

Heartily ashamed of himself for his temporary loss of nerve, Daylight returned to his task. The cessation of buying had turned the Stock Exchange into a bedlam, and down all the line of stocks the bears were smashing. Ward Valley, as the apex, received the brunt of the shock, and was already beginning to tumble. Daylight calmly doubled his buying orders. And all through Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday morning, he went on buying, while Ward Valley rose triumphantly higher. Still they sold, and still he bought, exceeding his power to buy many times over when delivery was taken into account. What of that? On this day the doubled dividend would be declared, he assured himself. The pinch of delivery would be on the shorts. They would be working terms with him.

And then the thunderbolt struck True to the rumor, Ward Valley leveled the assessment. Daylight threw up his arms. He verified the report and quit. Not alone Ward Valley, but a securities were being hammered down by the triumphant bears. As for Ward Valley, Daylight did not even trouble himself to check the bottom

Small Strips of Land In Pacific Inhabited by Chief of Port and Several Others.

San Francisco, Cal.—When a submarine cable breaks in mid-ocean, it would seem to one unfamiliar with such work that the location of the trouble would be a rather hopeless undertaking. This problem was recently presented to the Commercial Pacific Cable company, when its cable from San Francisco to China, Japan and the Philippines refused to operate. The question was very easily settled, however, by the use of delicate electrical instruments, which told that the break occurred on the coral reefs which surround the two little Midway Islands. These islands are 3,608 m from San Francisco and 4,237 m from the Philippines, each consisting of a strip of land of only a few acres in area, one being known as Sand Island, or Western Island, and the other Eastern Island, the cable station being located on the former.

In laying a trans-oceanic cable, every possible precaution is taken to keep the line free from "trouble." To this end the right of way, if it might apply such a term to the bottom of the sea, must contain no materials which will cause undue deterioration of the cable. In this instance, an unforeseen factor has arisen in the shape of a coral reef. The motion of the water swaying a great cable to and fro over the reef has caused the cable to chafe the insulation and wires sufficiently to cause break, the cost of repairing which amounts to approximately $100,000.

The population of Sand Island home of the cable station, consisted of 23 persons, namely, the superintendent of the cable company and his wife, one chief operator and his wife, a physician, cable operators and clerks, laborers, with two cows, two dogs and some poultry. There is no error, nor is a law-abiding community stable. It is a law-abiding community and has no need of any machine to enforce the law. At one time the United States had a few troops on the island, but they were withdrawn in 1906, and the interest of economy, since the island was a purely fiscal purpose.

Before the coming of the canal, the island was totally uninhabited. As the result of turning the two canary birds quite some time on the island now has a wild feline family of over five hundred so-

Girl Seeking $10,000 for Breach of Promise Admits She Did Not Accept Suitor.

Kansas City, Mo.—An emphatic "yes" and not a smile or a mere nod of the head must be given by the maiden proposed to in order to cover damages for breach of promise to marry, according to a decision in the circuit court here. Edna M. Cooke of this city sued Garnett Sparks, 372 Broadway, a horse and mule dealer for $10,000 damages, but her attorney withdrew the case when the evidence developed the fact that she had not said "yes" when Sparks proposed, but "took it for granted that he knew her."

Disciple of Bacchus Evidently Realized That Circumstances Looked Bad for Him.

Harry was a faithful servant of a large cotton planter whom he called, after the manner of slavery days, M'Sam (Marsee Sam). At stated intervals Harry was wont to get gloriously drunk; and one night in the fall, after a day in town, the mules hitched to his wagon drew up before the tot of the plantation, with Harry prostrate and snoring in the bottom of the wagon. Here one of his numerous progeny, a boy named Job, discovered him, and unable to awaken his father, or to secure any assistance from Harry's disgusted wife, he appealed to the planter, who had the mules unhitched, covered Harry with a blanket and with his own hands dragged the wagon under a shed.

Next morning Harry woke hazily and sat up, rubbing his eyes. "Job!" he cried aloud; "hurrah here, Job!" and when Job had come under the shed, "How come I here?"

Job sulkily explained how it had happened.

"Did M'Sam pull me under here?" asked Harry in dismay. "Gret Lordy I feared he t'nk I mus' be drunk!"—

"Three years ago this winter I had a breaking out that covered my whole body. It itched so it seemed as if I should go crazy. It first came out in little pimples on my back and spread till it covered my whole body and limbs down to my knees, also my arms down to my elbows. Where I scratched it made sores, and the terrible itching and burning kept me from sleeping. I tried several remedies all to no purpose. Then I concluded to try the Cuticura Remedies. I used the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, also the Resolvent, for about four months, and they completely cured me of eczema. I have had no return of the disease since. I never had a good night's rest after the skin eruption first broke out till I commenced using the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I had only used them a few days before I could see they were beginning to heal, and the terrible itching was gone.

"Those that lived in the house at the time know how I suffered, and how the Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured me. I never take a bath without using the Cuticura Soap, and I do not believe there are better remedies for any skin disease than the Cuticura Soap and Ointment." ## Not Seen in Congressional Record

WASHINGTON—In a way a very ludicrous thing happened in one of the committee rooms recently when the official reporter declared that the documents submitted in a certain case were fabricated, because they read "too smoothly" and that men did not talk that way. The stenographer lost his job, but the fact remains that members of congress and United States senators are absolutely dependent upon the official stenographers for decent records of the scattering and often incoherent and original speeches which they make in congress. It is positively funny to listen to some of the speeches, and then read the same speech as it is ironed out for print in the Congressional Record.

A representative, for instance, gets up and says: "Mr. Speaker—Mr. Speaker—am I recognized, Mr.—Mr. Speaker—ur—ur—Speaker? I—ur—have—ur—ah been ah—ur—listening—ur with a good deal of interest, sir—I mean Mr.—Mr. Speaker, to the—ur—remarks, sir—I mean—ur, Mr. Speaker—ur—Mr. Speaker—from Wayback, and—ur—I want to say, Mr. Speaker—ur—ah—uh, that, Mr. Speaker—ur, representing the constituents of a—ur—a great congressional district of more than 200,000 members, sir, I mean—ur, Mr. Speaker, I cannot afford—ur to sit here and hear these constituents, sir—ur Insulted, sir, by remarks, sir, I mean, Mr. Speaker, of the gentlemen from Wayback, and—ur I stand here, sir, in the presence of the great American—ur—ur people to defend, yes, sir, to defend the bringing, sir, upon my constituents, sir, that is—ur satisfaction—ur to all when I was elected—ur to this honorable body, sir. But, sir—I mean, Mr. Speaker." And about this time the gavel of the speaker comes down with a bang that rattles the medallions in the glass ceiling, and he says just as easy: "The time of the gentleman from—has expired," and his oratory is cut short. Now, you don't suppose for once that that sort of stuff is going to appear in the Congressional Record. No, indeed. The official stenographer has taken down every "uh and ah," and goes to the little desk at the end of his five minutes' stand, and talks it into the dictograph just as smooth and pretty as anything you ever read in your life, and it comes out just as though Mr. Representative was an orator of the first class, and he sends it back to his constituents, and they think he's wonderful to speak right on the floor of congress in that wonderful way.

It is the general belief among newspaper readers that it is the so-called "Backwoods" statesmen, who are the guilty ones in this respect, but the official stenographers say that the remarks of some of the members known throughout the land as brilliant orators, would at times look something like the foregoing.

Stakes Sandwich on Seat in Congress

UNIQUE among the candidates who ran the other day in the Pennsylvania primaries is Dr. Moses Stern of Philadelphia, candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress in the Third district. Dr. Stern filed with South Trimble, clerk of the house of representatives, a sworn statement that his expenses in the primaries amounted to 25 cents.

When he read the morning papers Dr. Stern probably learned whether the bread which he cast upon the waters was returned unto him many fold. He frankly confessed that he wanted to get on the public pay roll with a warm seat in congress before the country went bankrupt.

He was a bit worried lest a part of his expenditure may not have been regular. He insisted that he has bribed no one, but admitted that he did purchase a small chicken sandwich "for a colored gentleman." The rest of the 25 cents was spent for ten two-cent stamps, which were used to mail his nomination papers to the proper authorities.

Dr. Stern gave the house much information about himself and his ambitions, as well as his campaign, in the statement which he made to the clerk. Here are some choice extracts from his statement:

"I hope you have no complaint about my extravagant expense account?"

"I had no kind friend to lend me $10,000 cash to help me push my campaign for congress."

"I am satisfied nearly all of my constituents are the salt of the earth."

"My friends put my hat in the ring, and they say it is constitutional."

"As a candidate I have been improving voters to aid me to get on the public pay roll in Washington and get nice and warm in my seat in congress before the United States treasury becomes bankrupt and pawns our beautiful building, our national capitol, to my Uncle Rothschild."

"It has been my soaring ambition all this summer to be on a street corner speaking on a soap box and face a bitter contest of mollicoddlers in my Third congressional district until the polls close Tuesday, November 5, 1912."

"I have not bribed any voter, but did buy a small chicken sandwich for a colored gentleman."

His Bride's Name Slipped from Mind

WHEN George H. Covert, a salesman, living at the Y. M. C. A., walked into the marriage license bureau in City Hall the other day to apply for the necessary paper, which would enable him to become the husband of Miss Vera Ione Murray, a Washington girl, Covert was nervous—naturally. But his plunge into the matrimonial sea, clerks of experience say, affected him in a most unusual way. He forgot the name of his bride-to-be.

Covert approached Clerk Kroll shortly after three o'clock in the afternoon and applied for a marriage license. The clerk obligingly issued it, and asked no questions. Names are never questioned in the bureau, and, anyway, a young man about to take unto himself a wife is supposed to be thoroughly familiar with said wife's name and address.

However, Covert informed Kroll that his bride-to-be was Miss Vera Ione. The license was issued to George H. Covert and Miss Vera Ione, and the minister delegated to tie the knot was the Rev. Charles Wood. Not until the bride pair reached the parsonage did they discover the grave error made by Covert, and a hurried trip was made to the home of Col. John E. Young, clerk of the court, who rectified the error, and promised to make the necessary change in the official record book as soon as he reached his office next morning.

The knot was tied immediately, and Covert attributes the mistake to the fact that he was nervous—this being his first venture. He has been exonerated by Mrs. Covert, nee Vera Ione Murray.

Sad Predicament of Two Politicians

WHILE Colonel Walter Watkins of Tennessee was in Washington recently he told about the sad predicament of two citizens of his state who got into talking politics while traveling east some years ago on a Pullman car. It was a hot night and sleep was impossible. They were in the smoking room, and fell to talking about state affairs. While thus engaged an old grizzled, gaunt man came in, clad as befitted a torrid night, and began smoking. The two politicians kept up their talk and were regretting how poorly their state was represented at Washington. They were somewhat sarcastic in referring to the senatorial delegation and declared that younger and more vigorous men were needed.

"Looking at our senators," was remarked. "They are played out. Bate is old and Harris is dried up and useless."

Just then the old stranger in the

DOES YOUR BACK ACHE?

Aches and Twinges Point to Hidden Kidney Trouble.

Have you a lame back, aching day and night? Do you feel a sharp pain after bending over? When the kidneys seem sore and the action irregular, use Doan's Kidney Pills, which have cured thousands.

J. W. Priest, Third St., Marysville, Ohio, says: "I was in awful condition from kidney trouble, having run down in weight from 220 to 160 pounds. The pains across my back and loins were constantly growing worse and kidney secretions caused untold annoyance. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me after doctors failed and I have had no trouble since."

John's Logic.

John returned home at a very questionable hour, and among other souvenirs of a special evening he carried a considerable gash on his forehead. His wife demanded an explanation of the wound.

"Nothing but 'I'm 'bout m' dear. Jes' bit m'self."

"John Brown! How could you bite yourself on the forehead?" exclaimed his irritated helpmate.

This had presented no difficulties to the versatile John, if it had taxed the credulity of his spouse.

"I stood on chair, y'know," he exclaimed glibly.

FOR THE WOMAN WHO THINKS AND FEELS.

Some women complain that they periodically suffer from dull and heavy feelings, or dizziness in the head, nervousness, pain and bearing-down feelings which should not occur to the normal healthy woman. But most every woman is subject to these pains at some time in her life, due to abnormal conditions in life, such as liver, etc. A regulator and female tonic made from native medicinal roots with pure glycerin, and without the use of alcohol, called

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION.

Has proven its value in thousands of cases, like the following:

Mrs. DONA M. MARTIN, of Auburn, Neb., Route 1, Box 84, says: "I thought I would write you in regard to what your medicine has done for me. I have used them for thirty years for female trouble and general weakness with the very best results, and they have saved me hundreds of dollars in doctors' bills. I buy the Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery and take them together. I never was disappointed in your remedies and take pleasure in recommending them to any suffering lady. I am now almost fifty years old; at forty-five I took your medicine, both kinds, and I passed that period very easily and left me fat and healthy. I feel like a young girl. If any lady cares to write me I will gladly tell her more about the good work of your medicine."

Dr. PIERCE'S GREAT FAMILY DOCTOR BOOK. The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, newly revised up-to-date edition—of 1008 pages, answers hosts of delicate questions which every woman, single or married, ought to know. Sent free in cloth binding to any address on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of wrapping and mailing only.

Stock Must be Reduced

OWING to the unfavorable weather conditions of the past few weeks we find that we have too many suits, too many coats, too many dresses, and, in fact, too much merchandise in all lines on hand right now, and in order to considerably reduce the stock we have chopped down the prices one half on everything, and offer inducements that will pay you to come 50 miles to take advantage of hundreds of bargains that will never appear in print, but they are here for you to save money on. Profits, costs, values, all have been forgotten for this great event. Our only desire is to reduce our stock. It's a great chance. We are going to crowd this store with satisfied buyers, as it has never been crowded before, and we earnestly invite you to be one of them. Try on garments to your heart's content. Our reputation is behind our goods, and our guarantee insures absolute satisfaction or your money back.
